Boreas

Blow, Boreas!
Usher in the cold.
Bring the wind so bold
And steal away the light.

Whisper, Boreas,
Through the barren trees.
Whistle if you please
And leave us only night.

Snow gently falling,
A blanket of feathery dust
Wind chimes, performing
A dance with every gust,
Sing their song just for us!
A chorus of birds steals the show.

A draft makes its way
Into our home and shivers our bones.
Boreas playing his games!
Our fire parries his blows
To stay on her feet
And wrap us in heat.
Snow is falling.
Gently falling.

Behold, Boreas!
Ushers in the cold.
Brings the wind so bold
We welcome you tonight.

Shine, Boreas!
Luminous and bright!
In our hearts, in your heart
We are alight!
